Spartan victory

US Open champ Novak Djokovic celebrated his epic defeat of Roger Federer with “300” star Gerard Butler. After Djokovic won his 10th Grand Slam title on Sunday, he valiantly yelled, “This is Sparta!” at Butler, whom he’d invited to watch the match from his courtside box. Djokovic and Butler then continued the celebration into the night, starting with a private, late-night dinner on the terrace of Meatpacking District hot spot Catch, along with Serena Williams — who was with Drake in spite of the singer getting the blame on Twitter for her Open defeat — Catch co-owners Mark Birnbaum and Eugene Remm, and a group of friends and family. Celebrations continue tonight for Catch’s fourth anniversary.
